Dress In Church.

Apparently the ladies who listen to the sermons of the Rev. Mr. Talmage, a popular preacher of New York, have not learnt that black is a most fashionable colour for church wear, for he declares that: "There seems to be in the churches a great strife waging. It is an Austerlitz of ribbons. The carnage of colour is seen all over our religious assemblages. Along on the outskirts of the Sabbath audiences, you see here and there a picket of fashion, but down in the middle of the church are the solid columns blazing away all through the may lead to quite undesirable if not disastrous rvice. Five hundred 'broken and contrite hearts,' covered up in rainbows and spangles. Followers of the 'meek and lowly Nazarene,' all a-jingle and a-flash." Furthermore he says : " We want a great ecclesiastical reformation in this matter of sabbath accourrements. Shoo these religious peacocks out of the house of God. By your example, make subdued land modest costume more popular than gaudy apparel. Do not put so much dry goods on your back that you cannot climb into glory. You cannot sail into the harbour of heaven with such a rigging as that. They would level their guns at you as being a blockade runner. Coming up to the celestial door the gatekeeper would cry, 'Halt! you cannot go in with such regimentals.' And as you answered, 'I got those jewels from Tiffany, and that dress from Arnold and Constable, and those shoes from Burts, the gatekeeper would say to one of the attednants, . Take this soul down to one of the out-houses, and tear off those puffs and ruffles and knife-plaitings and Hamburg embroideries, and put on her more appropriate Sunday attire : for going in as she now is, all heaven would burst out a-langhing!"

THE PACIFIC Commercial Adbertiser.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 13. TUESDAY NEXT, the 16th inst., is the thirtyninth anniversary of the birth of His Majesty the King. We are happy to know that the health of our King is excellent, as well as that of all the members of the Royal Family. There will be a reception at the Palace during the forenoon, as per official notification elsewhere in today's paper, and in the afternoon the regatta in the harbor will be the principal attraction.

AT NOON to-day, Mr. Bartow will sell at public auction at the Government House, by order of the Board of Education, the ahupuaa of Waikapu, East Maui. This tract, containing from sixteen to twenty thousand acres, comprises land adapted to the cultivation of cane and a large portion admirably suited for cattle and sheep. It is true that in the dry season this land is comparatively barren, but the making of wells is practicable, whereby with the aid of the trade winds the subterranean streams of water can be brought to the surface, and the whole of the tract may be made a garden.

The thought suggests itself that no private party would be likely to offer such a parcel of land for sale at this time, when we are upon the eve of completing a commercial treaty of the first importance to the country; unless, indeed, the party were in immediate need of money .and even then the idea of hypothecating would first suggest itself. We are aware that the Board of Education is made up of gentlemen who are second to none in intelligence and judgment; and must therefore conclude that the Board is in much need of funds, or, that its members do not count much on the treaty and propose to take advantage of the hopefulness of others in disposing of a tract of land at a round figure.

Some YEARS ago, our Chief Justice, while at Washington as Minister Plenipotentiary, rendered an important service to the people of this Kingdom-especially that portion having business and social relations with the United States-in negotiating a Postal Treaty. It was not all that could have been desired, but was doubtless all that could be got at the time, and was a great intprovement upon the previous status (which had been in much of a muddle) and the law in relation to mail matter became fixed, the rates much reduced and the system generally understood. These facts, which we are now prone to forget. were at the time very much appreciated.

It occurs to us that there is now an excellent opportunity for Judge Allen,-who is still invested with the functions of Minister Plenipotentiary to the United States,-to render Hawaii another and greater service of the same kind, by negotiating a second Postal Treaty, or so amending the first as to include all mailable matter by prepayment in full in stamps of the country where mailed; and a reduction on newspapers, and all mailable matter (other than letters) in accordance with the prevailing systems of England and the United States. And we beg further to suggest, as practicable and advisable, the establishment between ourselves and our nearest neighbor and most intimate friend-the United States-of the Postal Money Order System. This has proved of great practical value in America, and would be of even greater importance to us, in proportion to our numbers, and in view of our isolated location, so distant from the centres

By every mail that leaves Honelulu for the East there are many who desire to send small sums of money to agents; correspondents or friends in various parts of the States, but which it is now very difficult to do except by mailing the gold (if you can purchase it) in a registered letter at letter postage, or by purchasing at a high premium a bank draft; and the collection of this, unless the party receiving it happens to reside near a principal city, is often attended with much trouble.

We take the opportunity, before the departure of the Chief Justice, to call the attention of the Cabinet to this important subject, believing that the light tax upon that gentleman's attention which will be required to ensure the final accomplishment of Reciprocity will leave him ample time to secure us an improved Postal Treaty, and-to make diligent search for the Hawaiian end of the Pacific sub-marine telegraph cable.

A LITTLE more than two months hence wil occur the general election for Representatives in the next Legislature. As usual, there will be a good deal of competition among native candidates. for the position of Representative is much sought after,-more, it must be acknowledged, for the sake of the loaves and fishes than from an intelligent idea of doing the state some service. We hear mentioned already the names of some twenty aspirants for the representation of Honoluluwhich sends four members-and candidates are said to be proportionally numerous in other districts. At the last election, two years since, there was apparently a general understanding among the natives to elect none but natives, and consequently there was but one foreign-born member among the Representatives at the session of 1874. But the more conservative and thoughtful among the people-probably as a result of experience-are now heard expressing very strong doubts as to the soundness of the policy then pursued, and are soliciting foreigners to come forward as candidates. Very naturally however, after the thorough throwing over of foreigners by the natives in 1874, the former are not solicitous of again risking defeat. In fact a general apathy, and a disposition to allow the natives to run the business of legislation " to the top of their bent" without interference, prevails among the foreign population throughout the islands. It will be apparent however, on a brief exami nation of the situation, that this state of things is not only unsatisfactory but unfortunate, and sults to the country at large-to the interests of both natives and foreigners. Aside from the possible mischief from ordinary rash legislation as a consequence of a careless selection of Representatives, it should be remembered that the coming session is likely to be one of more than usual importance. With the expected accomplishment of Reciprocity will come the necessity for a revision of our revenue system; and it cannot be a matter of indifference to any tax-paver as to how the inevitable deficit is to be provided for. We are all interested on this point, however careless and apathetic we may be on other matters connected with legislation and the making of laws. And therefore, without appealing to higher motives, we contend that it is very desirable that foreign-born subjects, and residents generally as well, should take more interest in the coming election than they are now inclined to, and that they should use all legitimate efforts and the influence at their command in order to scenie she return of the right class of men as Caroline.

IT WOULD be difficult to imagine a prettier scene than was presented by Emma Square on Tuesday and Thursday evenings of the present week, during the moonlight concerts by the band. That of Tuesday evening was by order of Gov. Dominis, it being proposed that on at least one moonlight evening in each month we shall have music in the Square; and the second was by order of the Hon. A. S. Cleghorn, whose evening it was as a subscriber to have the band at his own house, but who very justly concludes that the public will be better suited and enjoy the treat more at a public place. It is scarcely necessary to say that the music was really fine; good critics now agree that our band is only second to the famous ones of other countries, and that their performances would both delight and astonish connoisseurs in the art anywhere. Great praise is undoubtedly due to Mr. Berger, the leader, who has been at infinite pains in instructing the men; but it must also be added that Hawaiians have a singular aptitude in learning music, and that they are born time keepers. This is evinced in their almost perfect rendering -after brief practice -of difficult opera music, several pieces of which were given on the evenings mentioned in a manner that elicited enthusiastic praise from competent judges. The attendance of the public was large-there was not far from two thousand persons in and about the Square, men, women and children-and every one of the numerous benches recently provided was fully occupied throughout the concerts, which lasted (including intermissions) an hour and a half. The more of this rational sort of amusement that is provided for the people the better for all concerned, say we; and so apparently thought the crowds of quiet, orderly, good-humored people who promenaded around the Square or among the trees or sat on the benches listening to the strains of Rossini, of Verdi, or of Strauss. The moon, not yet full, shone with a "dim, religious light" among the luxuriant trees and shrubbery-the tropical palm near by the pine of the temperate zone ;-"Twas one of those delicious nights, So common in the clime of Greece

When day withdraws but half his lights.
And all is moonlight, balm and peace."
The tasteful improvements recently made in the Square, under the direction of Mr. Cleghorn, deserve special notice. A neat and substantial fence has taken the place of the dilapidated one that formerly enclosed the grounds. Four handsome turnstiles admit bipeds and effectually exclude quadrupeds. A capacious circular pavilion for the band stands near the centre of the park. and its elevation and construction is such that the music is heard with distinctness much farther than formerly. Serpentine paths have been cut through the greensward, which when sanded and well graded, will make pleasant walks, leading to

"The climbing bush, with seats beneath the shade, For talking age, and whisp'ring lovers made!" We are in truth and with reason somewhat proud of our single square, and can point it out 'lions," albeit not a very large one. Yet it is very pretty, and affords a quiet resort, readily accessible to the townsfolk who consciously feel better for an occasional smell of the turf and the breath of heaven through the trees.

Resolutions Passed in Privy Council. AT a meeting of the Privy Council held at Iolani Palace, Nov. 8th, 1875, the following resolutions

Meeting of the Bar.

On Wednesday the 10th inst., a meeting of the Court and members of the Bar was held at the Supreme Court room, on the occasion of the death of the Attorney General. There were present the Chief Justice and Mr. Justice Harris, and Messrs. W. C. Jones, E. Preston, A. S. Hartwell, S. B. Dole, E. T. O'Halloran, J. P. Green, W. O. Smith and Cecil Brown, of the Bar; W. C. Parke, Marshal; and Messrs, Seal and Barnard, Chief and Deputy Clerks.

May it please the Honorable Court: I rise for the purpose of introducing a series of resolutions relative to the lamented death of Richard H. Stanley, late Attorney General of this Kingdom. It is with the deepest regret that I make this announcement to the Court and members of the Bar. In him we have lost an ablefand upright Attorney, who was distinguished for professional courtesy and kindness of disposition. He was careful, laborious and honorable in his profession, and generous and respectful in his professional intercourse with the members of the Bar. Let his virtues live as a bright example, and if he had errors let the mantle of oblivion be cast over them.

Mr. Jones then read the following resolutions, and noved their adoption : RESOLVED, That in the death of Richard H. Stanley, Esq., His Majesty's Attorney General, this Bar has lost a valuable and distinguished member, who during his residence in this Kingdom was as well known for his application to business and his devotion to his profession as for his kindliness of disposition.

Resolved, That these resolutions be entered upon the records of the Court and copies sent to the several newspapers for publication; and that a copy of the same be forwarded to the numbers of the family of the deceased in the United States.

The resolutions were carried unanimously, after which brief and feeling addresses were made by Messrs. O'Halloran, Dole, Preston and Hartwell. In ordering the resolutions to be entered of record, Chief Justice Allen spoke as follows:

The Court have listened to the resolutions of the Bar, and the remarks of several of its members, in honor of the memory of the late Attorney General, with sorrow and respect. He discharged the duties of his office in Court, with fidelity and ability. i became acquainted with Mr. Stanley in the early days of his residence here. He often came to my office for the advantages of the library, and I soon discovered that he had a strong wish to improve his knowledge of the law, and I rendered him with pleasure all the facilities I could in accomplishment of his purpose. Some three years after his arrival here he was admitted as a counsellor, and he continued the practice of his profession with great assiduity, till disabled a few months since by ill health. His practice has always been distinguished for fidelity to his clients, and great courtesy to his brothers of the Bar, and especially so to the Court. He carefully prepared his cases, and often with unusual ability. His forte was not so much as an advocate as in the other branches of his profession. He was a most accomplished conveyancer; and his arguments to the Court, often evinced laborious sional character. ENGLISH PENSIONS .- In the list of English pensions paid last year there is an item of $160 still paid to persons who suffered by the rebellion in reland in 1798; $50 paid to a servant of King George III; $1750 paid to servants of Queen Charlotte, and $300 paid to servants of Queen
